Historical Review

In 1858, at the request of Rt. Rev. H. Damian Juncker, D. D., first Bishop of Alton, several Franciscan Fathers of the Province of the Holy Cross, in Germany, sent by their Provincial, the Very Rev. Gregory Janknecht, arrived in this country and took charge of St. Francis' parish at Teutopolis, Effingham County, Illinois. Prompted by their zeal and taught by experience that the education and religious training of youth demanded particular attention, the Fathers soon took steps to found an institution of higher education.

Accordingly, a committee of prominent citizens of Teutopolis was formed, under the presidency of the Rev. Damian Hennewig, in charge of the parish, to procure a suitable site and the necessary funds for the erection of a high school. Messrs. John F. Waschefort, Clement Uptmor, John Wernsing, and Dieterich Eggermann, who composed the committee, are held in grateful remembrance for the great interest they showed in this praiseworthy undertaking and for the efficient services rendered.

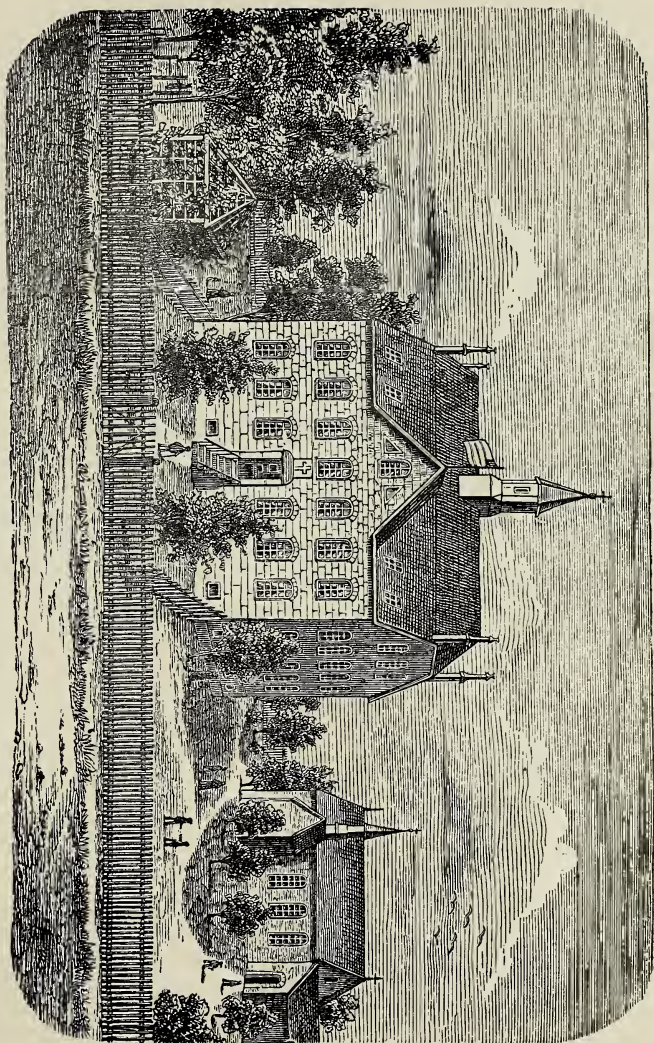

An area of eighteen lots in the southern part of the town was selected as the site of the institution, and funds were liberally subscribed by the members of the parish, then comprising the greater part of Effingham County. The cornerstone of the building was laid on July 2, 1861. The two story structure of brick, 80 x 40 feet, with basement and attic, was completed during the summer of 1862 and blessed with appropriate ceremonies by the Rt. Rev. Bishop H. Damian Juncker, on September 15. On September 16, the Institution, placed under the protection of St. Joseph, was formally opened, with the Rev. Herbert Hoffmanns, O. F. M., as President and five other Franciscans as teachers. The Bishop of Alton, to whom the College was subsequently deeded for the benefit of the diocese, raised the Institution also to an Ecclesiastical Seminary and sent to it his candidates for the holy ministry to pursue the courses of philosophy and theology.

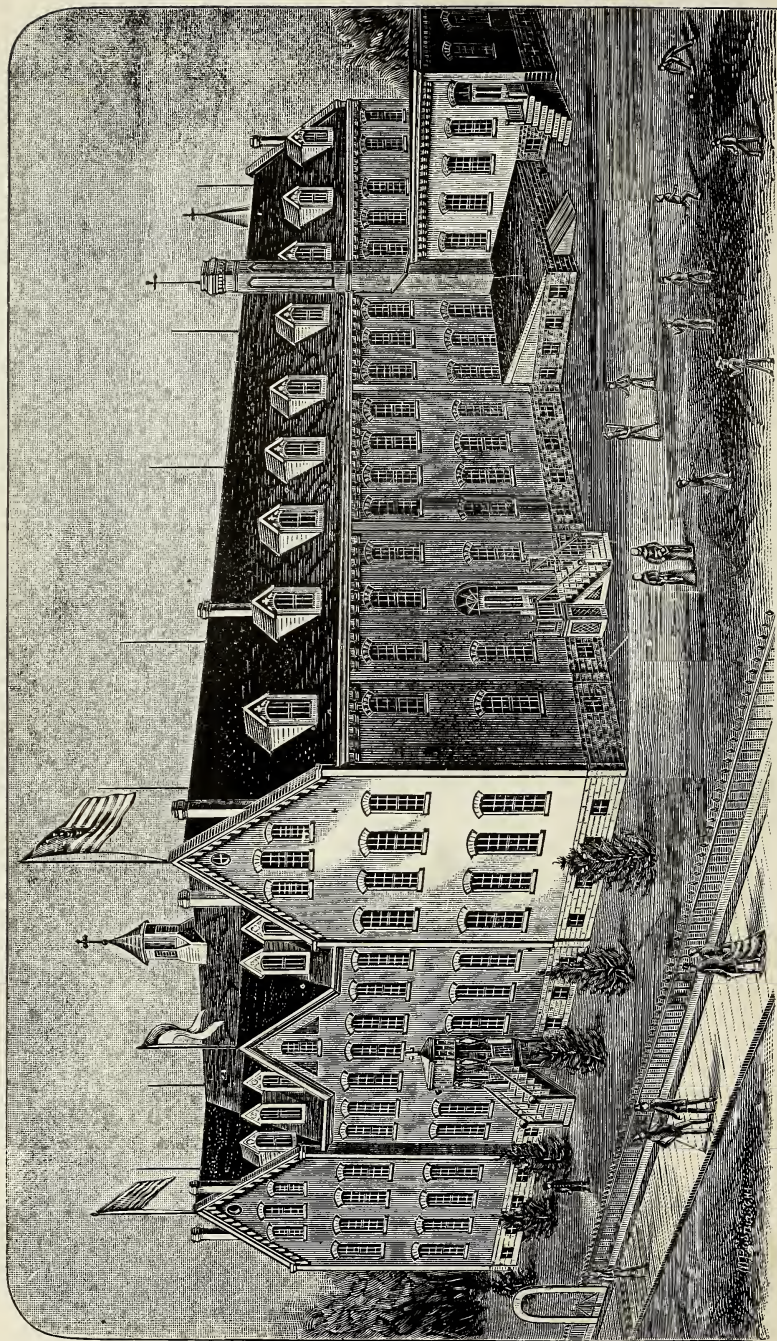

The number of Fathers was small, and the few were, besides, engaged in giving missions and in other pastoral duties. In consequence of these many and exacting labors, they could not give the necessary attention to the Seminary. They, therefore, in 1865, deemed it proper to discontinue teaching philosophy and theology and to devote their entire energy to the imparting of a thorough classical education, combined with a good, moral training.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Herbert Hoffmanns had resigned his office and was appointed to teach theology to the clerics of the Order. His death, which occurred at the convent at Teutopolis, on October 16, 1868, was deplored by the many witnesses of his indefatigable zeal for the honor of God and the salvation of souls. He was succeeded in the Presidency of the College by the Very Rev. Maurice Klostermann, O. F. M., who held the office from 1864 till 1882.

At the close of the first year of Father Maurice's administration, the Seminary Department was discontinued and the course of studies was arranged so as to comprise an Academic and a Junior College Department, embracing a period of six years. Later a Commercial Course was added.

ST. JOSEPH'S SEMINARY AND COLLEGE, TEUTOPOLIS, ILLINOIS, 1862.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE IN 1887

The aim of the Institution, however, was not only to develop the mental powers, but also to cultivate a relish for virtue and religion. Although, for a time, members of different denominations had been received, yet to insure success, it was finally decided that only Catholics should be admitted, and their spiritual wants were always carefully provided for. At first, a room in the main building served as chapel, but soon a frame building was erected for this purpose, and when this chapel, in the course of time, proved too small, it was replaced by a more commodious structure.

In order to accommodate the large number of students who wished to avail themselves of the advantages of a higher education, an addition was made to the east side of the College building in 1877,—thus securing almost twice as much room as the old building had afforded. The entire first story of this new wing served as a study hall.

In 1881 the College was chartered under the laws of the State of Illinois and empowered to confer the academic degrees in accordance with the custom prevailing in the colleges in the United States. Henceforth the official title of the Institution was “St. Joseph’s Diocesan College;” up to this time it had been known as “St. Joseph’s Ecclesiastical College.”

The following year, the Rev. Maurice Klostermann was compelled by failing sight to resign the presidency of the College after having, for a period of eighteen years, greatly contributed by his faithful and able administration, to the development and prosperity of the Institution. The vacancy in the presidency was filled by the appointment of the Rev. Michael Richardt, O. F. M., who entered upon the duties of his office in the beginning of the scholastic year 1882—1883.

One of the first duties of the new President was to provide accommodations for the growing number of students. Accordingly, in 1884, a wing, corresponding to the eastern but considerably larger, was erected on the west side of the original structure. On this occasion, all the modern improvements, such as steam heating, flowing water, and gas light, were introduced. Thus enlarged and equipped, the College was able to accommodate 180 boarders. At the same time, the chapel was greatly enlarged by the addition of a new sanctuary and sacristy, and joined to the west wing of the College building. The dedication of the new wing and chapel was performed in the fall of 1884 by the Provincial, Very Rev. Vincent Halbfas, O. F. M., assisted by a large number of priests of the diocese.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Institution was celebrated amid great festivities on June 21, 22, and 23, 1887. The presence of a large number of former students and friends, manifested the interest entertained for the Institution and had a cheering influence on the faculty and students. The College could, indeed, look back with joy and pride upon the first twenty-five years of its endeavors in the field of education; for it counted among its alumni 138 priests (89 secular and 50 regular), 23 seminarians, 46 Franciscan clerics devoting themselves to the study of philosophy and theology, 77 lay teachers, and a large number of men successful in the various walks of life.

Despite the erection of the large western wing in 1883-1884, it was again found necessary to enlarge the building. In the spring of 1889, accordingly, the foundations of two additions were laid. These structures were completed in fall and blessed by Rt. Rev. James Ryan, Bishop of Alton, on Thanksgiving Day, November 28. One building, 110 x 40 feet, contains the new study hall and the auditorium; the other, 125 x 40 feet, serves as the play hall and gymnasium.

In July 1891, the Rev. Michael Richardt, President of the College, was elected Provincial of the Province of the Sacred Heart, and the Rev. Nicholas Leonard, Vice-President of St. Francis College, Quincy, Illinois, was chosen to succeed him. After a short but successful term of office,—till January 1893;—Father Nicholas was recalled by his superiors to Quincy and placed at the head of the college in that city. His successor at Teutopolis was the Rev. Hugoline Storff, who held the office of President of the College from 1893 till 1900, and again from 1906 till 1912.

During his administration, the Institution continued to prosper in every way. The number of students increased from year to year, so that the buildings again proved inadequate to accommodate them. Plans were, accordingly, drawn for an addition, 90 x 60 feet, to contain several class rooms, a library, and rooms for the members of the faculty; and also for a Chapel, in the Romanesque style, measuring 118 x 50 feet. Building operations were begun in the early part of 1895 and completed in the spring of the following year. The new chapel was solemnly blessed by Rt. Rev. Bishop Ryan on April 22, 1896. The Pontifical High Mass on this occasion was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. John Janssen, Bishop of Belleville, a lifelong friend of the Institution.

The year 1898 brought an important change in the status of the College. The number of young men who wished to prepare themselves for the priesthood in the Franciscan Order grew from year to year, and the time was thought opportune to obtain control of the Institution, in order to make it a school for aspirants of the Order. An agreement was reached with the Rt. Rev. Bishop of the diocese, by which the Institution ceased to be the Diocesan College and passed under the entire control of the Franciscan Fathers of the Province of the Sacred Heart. The transfer of the College to the Franciscans took place on February 15, 1898. Since then it is devoted exclusively to the education of boys and young men who wish to become priests of the Order of St. Francis. Its official title was changed from "St. Joseph's Diocesan College" to "St. Joseph's Seraphic College."

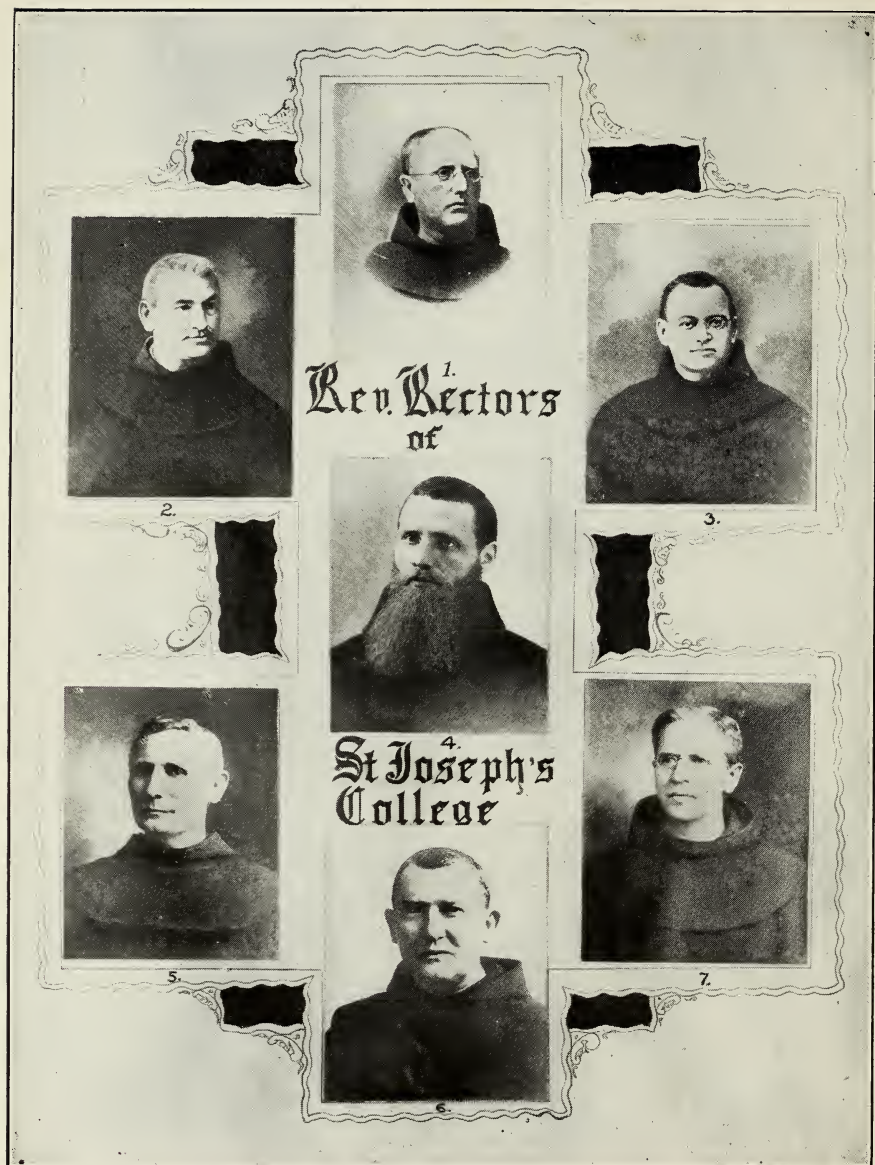

Under the wise administration of the Rev. Hugoline Storff and his successors, whose names will be found in the list of the Rev. Presidents of the College printed elsewhere in this Jubilee Souvenir, St. Joseph's Seraphic College, nobly lived up to its purposes and fulfilled the expectations of those who planned and founded it, as the goodly number of priests that look to it as their ALMA MATER amply testifies.

The course of studies adopted during the first years of the Institution, and comprising an Academic and a Junior College Department, was followed, with a few modifications throughout all the years; and every effort was made to perfect it in accordance with the scope of the Institution and the demands of the times. An important move in this regard was made during the past scholastic year: the Senior College Department at West Park, Ohio, comprising the Junior and Senior Classes and a Post-Graduate Course, was formally added to the Institution, thus securing a complete and standard College Course.

Teutopolis, Illinois

Opens its Sixty-First Scholastic Year
Tuesday, September 5, 1922

Historical Sketch

An historical review of the foundation, development, and scope of this Institution, is found in the Sixtieth Anniversary part of this catalogue, page III.

Legal Title

Since 1898, the legal name of this Institution has been
"The St. Joseph's Seraphic College."

New Department

On March 1, 1922, the Provincial School of Philosophy at West Park, Ohio, comprising the Junior and Senior Classes of the College and a Post-graduate Course, was formally added as a Department to St. Joseph's College, Teutopolis, Illinois. The department, however, remains located at West Park, Ohio.

Requirements for Admission

The aim and scope of this Institution is to fit the student for his special vocation of priest in the Franciscan Order, and to impart that general Culture, which consists in the moral, mental, esthetic, and physical development of the whole man.

In accordance with the object of the Institution, applicants must declare in writing their intention of becoming members of the Franciscan Order in the Province of the Sacred Heart.

Applicants must be bodily, mentally, and morally sound.

They must be neither less than twelve, nor more than sixteen years of age.

They must have successfully passed at least the seventh grade of a primary school.

Unless recommended by a member of the Franciscan Order, or otherwise known to some member of the Faculty, they must present satisfactory testimonials as to their moral character and their progress in school.

A student coming from another Institution must present a certificate of credits of his previous work, and a testimonial of honorable dismissal.

The fact of application and admission implies an agreement on the part of the student as well as of the parents or guardians to observe all terms and regulations of the Institution as indicated in this prospectus.

Information for Parents and Guardians

This Institution will receive and retain as students only such boys and young men as desire to become priests of the Franciscan Order. Wherefore, parents and guardians, by sending their sons or wards to the College, consent to their eventual entrance into the Order.

Students should not be called home without communicating with the Rev. President of the Institution. They are under the vigilant care of the Fathers at all times. In case of accident or serious illness, parents will be promptly notified.

All money should be sent directly to the Rev. President of the Institution, and not to the students, who will be credited with the amount. All money of the students is under the control of the Rev. President.

Delicacies and other eatables may be sent to the students for Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter; at other times, parents and friends should refrain from sending such articles to the students.

During visits of parents and friends, students are not excused from class or study hours and other common exercises. It is, therefore, the earnest wish of the College authorities that visits be restricted to the various holidays of the school year; likewise, that parents should not seek leave of absence for their sons, except for the most urgent reasons.

Parents are reminded of their duty carefully to watch over the conduct of their sons during the time of vacation. They are urged to keep them from dangerous places of amusement, especially from the "movies."

Rules of Discipline

The aim of the discipline of the College is the development of character. It insists on habits of application and punctuality, and inculcates the rules of gentlemanly deportment. While the discipline of the College is mild and paternal, the laws of good order, propriety, and morality are strictly enforced.

The student body is divided into Juniors and Seniors. Class spirit is encouraged as an excellent means of promoting companionship and healthy emulation. Familiarity between larger and smaller boys will not be tolerated.

All students must show reverence and obedience to the Rev. President, the Rev. Professors and Prefects, and they should cultivate harmony and fellowship among themselves.

Students should develop the habit of punctuality by promptly responding to all the signals calling them to their several duties.

They should always be neat in their personal appearance and look to order and cleanliness in all their things.

All running, loud talking, shouting, and whistling inside the buildings, except the gymnasium, are strictly forbidden, at all times, especially in the corridors, class-rooms, studyhall, refectory and dormitory.

No one shall visit the class-rooms during the free time, the refectory between meals, the infirmary or the dormitory during the day without special permission. Nor are students at liberty to enter parlors, private rooms, kitchens, workshops, or cellars.

No student is allowed to leave the College premises or to enter any private house or any store without the express permission of the Rev. President, which will be granted for urgent reasons only.

Students are held responsible for any damage done to property of the Institution or of any fellow student.

The use of intoxicants and of tobacco in any form is most strictly prohibited.

All correspondence must pass through the hands of the Rev. President or his representative. All books, pamphlets, and pictures brought to the College, must be submitted to the Rev. President for inspection.

Books may be drawn from the general library on the eve of holidays. These books must be invariably returned before studies are resumed. The reading of newspapers, magazines, or story-books, as well as the writing of letters, will not be allowed during hours of study.

All money brought to the College by the students or sent to them during the year, must be deposited with the Rev. President. No expenditures may be made without consulting the Rev. President.

Students who are discovered to exert an immoral influence or who endeavor to excite discontent and resistance to authority will be summarily dismissed from the College.

Other causes of expulsion are: Insubordination, continued inapplication to studies, the use or the introduction of intoxicants, repeated serious transgressions of the rules of the College.

Correspondence with students who have been expelled or who have left the College in bad standing, is most strictly prohibited.

Religious Exercises

The students are required to approach the Sacraments on all Sundays and Holydays of Obligation. They are urged to continue this practice also during vacation.

In accordance with the decree of Pope Pius X, the College authorities most earnestly recommend the practice of daily Communion as an excellent means of acquiring solid virtue and of fostering the spirit of piety.

Apart from the religious exercises on Sundays and Holydays of Obligation, the following devotions are held:

Stations of the Cross, every Friday evening;

Devotion in honor of the Immaculate Conception and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, every Saturday evening;

Devotion in honor of St. Anthony with Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament and Benediction, every Tuesday morning;

Devotion in honor of the Sacred Heart and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, the first Friday of every month.

During the months of October and May, daily devotion and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in honor of the Blessed Virgin. A short devotion in honor of St. Joseph is held daily during the month of March.

Novenas in preparation for the feast of Pentecost, of the Immaculate Conception, and St. Francis of Assisi.

Thirteen-hours' devotion, on the feast of the Patronage of St. Joseph.

Departments of Study

St. Joseph's College comprises an Academic and a College Department.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT. The Academic Department is a Four Year Classical High School.

The Academic Course of studies comprises Ancient and Modern Languages, Rhetoric, Elocution, Literature, Mathematics, Biological and Physical Sciences, History, Vocal and Instrumental Music.

The studies are so graded and directed as to be in perfect adaptation to the natural growth of the student's intellect, and calculated to secure the harmonious development of all his faculties.

The requirements for admission to the Academic Department are stated on p. 8 of this catalogue.

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT. The Course of Collegiate studies extends over a period of four years, to which is added a fifth year of Post-graduate study.

The classical education begun in the Academy is completed in the College of Arts and Sciences, which offers courses in Philosophy, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Astronomy, Mathematics, History, Oratory, Ancient and Modern Languages.

The only Baccalaureate Degree conferred by the College is that of Bachelor of Arts (A. B.)

Credit for not less than 16 units of Academic work in acceptable subjects (See schedule of studies, p. 16) is required for admission to the College of Arts and Sciences. These entrance credits must include four units of Latin and three of Greek.

Examinations and Reports

General Examinations are held at the close of each semester. Special class examinations may be held at any time at the discretion of the class professor.

After each of the General Examinations a detailed report of the student's standing and deportment is sent to parents or guardians.

Credits for conduct are publicly read to the students every month.

"At least twice a year the Rev. President after consulting the members of the Faculty, will transmit to the Very Rev. Provincial a written report of the conduct and the class-standing of each student." (Con. Gen. No. 54.)

Credits and Promotions

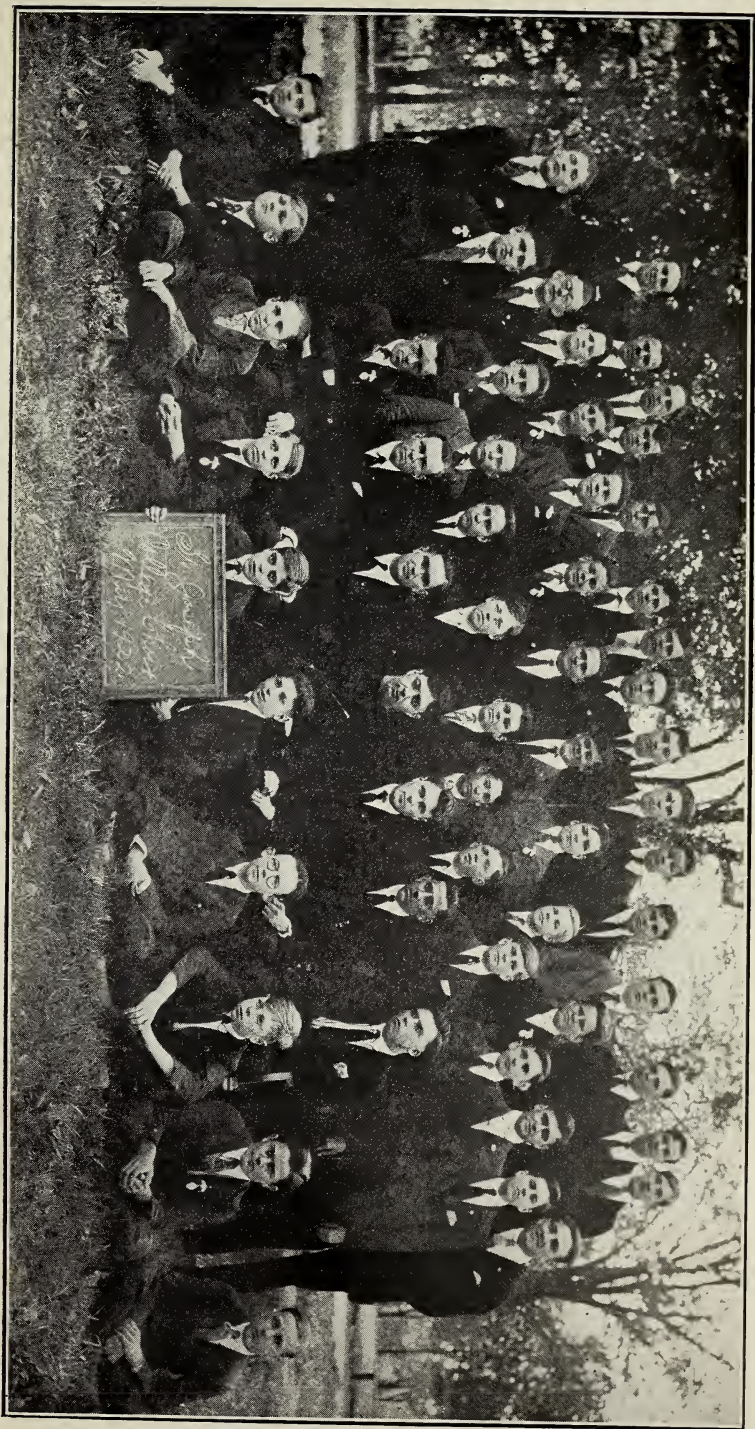

The combined results of the examinations, class work and prepared tasks of the entire semester determine whether or not, a student is to receive credit for his work.

The grade in each subject is estimated on the basis of a 100 per cent. The passing grade is 70; from 60-70 exclusive, constitutes a condition, below 60, a failure.

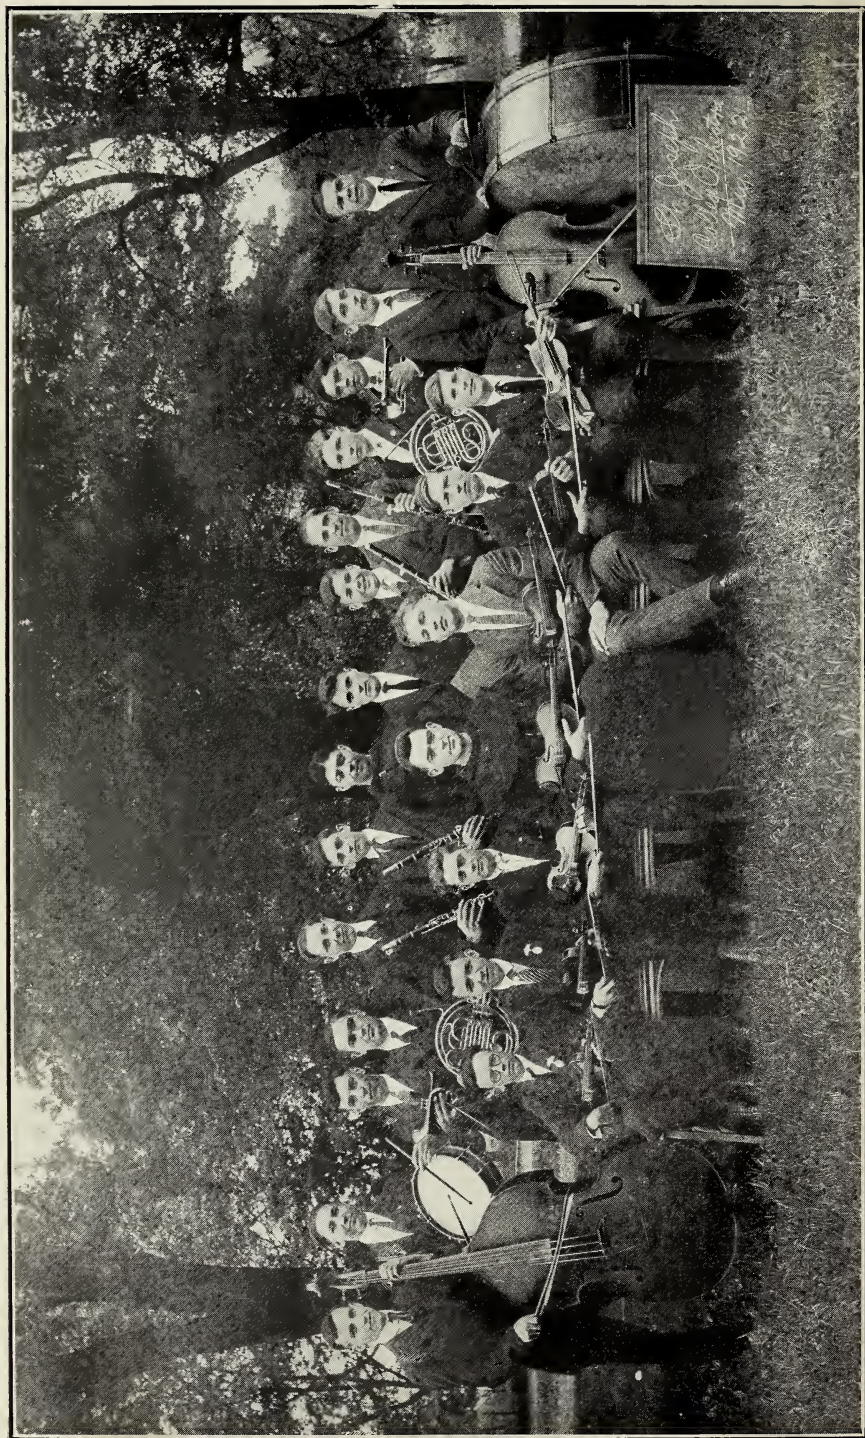

Failure in any subject deprives a student of all credit for the work of the whole semester in that particular subject.

A condition incurred at the end of the first semester is removed by passing a satisfactory examination before the General Examinations of the second semester; a condition incurred at the end of the second semester must be removed before the beginning of the next scholastic year; otherwise the condition becomes automatically a failure.

After a second failure in the same class, the student is lacking in either talent or good will, and hence, he will not be permitted to continue his course.

COLLEGE CHOIR

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

Requirements for Graduation

Academic Department

The standard of graduation in the Academic Department includes, as a minimum requirement, credit for Academic work equivalent to 16 units in the prescribed subjects. See schedule of studies p. 16.

A unit is the study of a subject for one scholastic year of 36 weeks with five weekly class periods of 45 minutes each.

College Department

DIPLOMAS. Diplomas will be issued to students who have satisfactorily completed their Junior College work.

BACCALAUREATE DEGREE. The Degree of Bachelor of Arts (A. B.) is conferred on students who have successfully completed four years of College work, with an average grade of 80 or above.

The required grade is the general average of all the semester courses in the subjects prescribed.

Candidates for the Degree must present, as a minimum requirement, credit for 150 semester hours in the subjects prescribed. See schedule of studies, p. 16.

A semester hour is the study of a subject for one semester with one weekly period of one hour.

BACCALAUREATE DEGREE WITH DISTINCTION. The candidate for a Degree with Distinction must have attained, as a general average of all the semester courses, a grade of at least 85 per cent.

The Baccalaureate Degree with Distinction is awarded in three grades: with Distinction (cum laude), with High Distinction (magna cum laude), with Highest Distinction (summa cum laude).

The gradation of Distinction is based on the following averages:

- (a) A. B. cum laude: grade, 85-90 excl.
- (b) A. B. cum laude: grade, 90-95 excl.
- (c) A. B. summa cum laude: grade, 95-100.
